

The International Network for Acid Prevention

www.inap.com.au

What is INAP?

An organization of international mining companies dedicated to reducing liabilities associated with sulphide mine materials.

INAP Activities

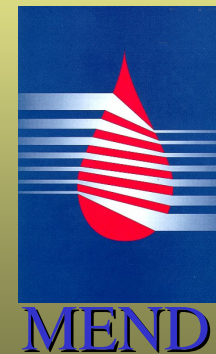

- Information sharing and networking
- Technology Transfer
- Research

Information sharing & networking

Global Alliance

Acid Drainage Technology Initiative

Technology Transfer

The poster is for the Sixth International Conference on Acid Rock Drainage (ARD) and Mining and Metallurgy (M&M). It features a collage of images at the top showing various mining and environmental scenes. The main title is 'Sixth International Conference ACID ROCK DRAINAGE' in large blue letters. Below it is the subtitle 'Application and Sustainability of Technologies'. A yellow box contains the word 'PROCEEDINGS'. The bottom of the poster lists the dates '14-17 July 2003' and the location 'Cairns, Queensland, Australia'. Logos for principal sponsors (EGi, INAP, Queensland Government, Environmental Protection Agency, Queensland Parks and Wildlife Service) and conference proceedings (Qnsto) are also present.

Sixth International Conference
ACID ROCK DRAINAGE
"Application and Sustainability of Technologies"

PROCEEDINGS

14-17 July 2003
Cairns, Queensland, Australia

- Heap Leach workshop
- 6th ICARD
- 10th BC MEND
ARD/ML Workshop

INAP Research

- Sulphate Reduction
- Dry Cover Systems
- Waste rock characterization
- Co-mixing
- Rum Jungle Dry Cover
- Scale-up
- World-wide guide on AD

Future Projects

- Workbooks – Geochem Modelling and Pit Lakes
- Store and release covers
- Addition of South African experience to sulphate reduction
- Diavik test pile research
- Waste Rock benchmarking
- Whole lake manipulation

INAP Priorities

- Continue to seek linkages with regional organizations involved with AD initiatives.
- Promote information sharing, collaborative research and best management practices.
- Maintain an organization committed to making long-term improvements in acid prevention through global cooperation and action.